DOCKETING NOTICE

Record and service directions

On January 20, the district clerk transmitted the notice of appeal, civil docket, party information, final judgment, and confirmation of payment. The record-complete certificate remains due and will be reviewed after it is entered. Until this court enters a record-complete and briefing order, the parties shall promptly notify the clerk of any claimed transmission defect. A request to add material that was not before the district court must identify a lawful basis and may not be presented as a correction of an existing record item.

All counsel shall use the appellate docket number shown above on every submission. Electronic filing constitutes service on registered counsel unless a rule or order requires another method. Counsel shall keep contact information current and shall confer before seeking an extension. The clerk will issue a separate order when the certified record has been checked and briefing may begin. This notice makes no ruling on the merits, the scope of review, or the admissibility of any record item.
