

SYNTHETIC TRAINING RECORD — FICTIONAL PARTIES, PEOPLE, OFFICES, IDENTIFIERS, AND EVENTS — NOT A REAL FILING OR PRESENTENCE REPORT

Actual Docketing Statement

United States Court of Appeals for the Fourth Circuit United States v. Mateo Serrano
Appeal No. SYN-CA4-26-CR-4201 Document 3 Filed March 23, 2026

Mateo Serrano, through Celia Arden, identifies the February 25 criminal judgment as the order appealed. The judgment followed a guilty plea to one count of conspiracy to commit wire fraud and imposed 36 months of imprisonment, three years of supervised release, restitution of $186,400, a $100 assessment, and no fine.

The district court entered judgment on Wednesday, February 25, 2026. Serrano filed his notice with the district clerk on Wednesday, March 11, the fourteenth calendar day. No government notice or tolling motion changes that actual chronology. The appeal is therefore based on the timely notice certified in the lower record.

This statement gives administrative notice of anticipated issues. It does not quote confidential presentence material, state a merits conclusion, or waive a position. The underlying offense is described only abstractly; no claim mechanics, credentials, financial routes, or private identifiers appear.

Questions Expected to Be Presented

First, Serrano expects the parties to address whether the plea agreement and Rule 11 colloquy establish a knowing and intelligent appeal waiver. Second, he expects a threshold dispute over whether that waiver covers an ordinary appellate challenge to the three-level manager-or-supervisor adjustment under U.S.S.G. § 3B1.1(b).

Third, the appeal presents whether the agreement's express carve-out permits review of a claim that the sentencing court completely denied Serrano a personal opportunity to allocute. The transcript shows counsel spoke before sentence, but the court did not personally invite Serrano to speak and no contemporaneous objection was made. Serrano anticipates plain-error analysis and a dispute about whether his preserved mitigation creates a real possibility of a lower sentence.

The enhancement question concerns exactly five criminally responsible participants and whether Serrano managed or supervised at least one person. Serrano does not contend that property or activity management alone satisfies the adjustment. He identifies the issue without exposing the sealed probation analysis and without conceding that appellate review of its merits survives the waiver.

Record and Confidentiality Statement

The certified lower record consists of 28 public or protected source documents totaling 260 logical pages. Presentence materials include paired public docket surrogates and sealed synthetic volumes. The public counterparts describe categories only and are not redacted presentence reports. Serrano will follow the court's sealed-material procedure before relying on a protected detail.

The anticipated appellate appendix will use public-redacted and sealed-highlighted brief pairs where confidential facts are necessary. A separate PSR appendix volume will have a public docket surrogate and protected twin rather than a purported public PSR. Existing lower-court confidentiality remains in effect unless modified.

Any fictional workbench display of a sealed twin must be authorized for the particular disclosure and exact exercise-package identity. Each open must independently verify the stored path, size, digest, readability, and page count before producing a leased snapshot; revocation restores the public projection. Those software controls do not represent access to a real court, probation office, PACER, or CM/ECF account.

Related Matters and Certification

There is no related appeal, consolidated proceeding, or prior appellate disposition involving this synthetic judgment. This statement proceeds only from Serrano's March 11 notice and the certified record transmitted from the district court. No event outside those filings forms part of the docket or the jurisdictional chronology.

Arden expects the fictional United States to raise the appeal waiver at its first filing directed to disposition. The defense reserves its response concerning validity, scope, severability by target, and the express allocution exception. Identifying that expected threshold issue does not concede the government's position or permit either party to defer an apparent ground contrary to governing procedure.

I certify that this statement is accurate to the current actual docket, that all identities and events are fictional, and that no real presentence information or actionable offense detail is included. I will promptly supplement an administrative fact that materially changes while preserving all merits arguments for the appropriate filing.

Celia Arden Fictional Counsel for Mateo Serrano