

United States District Court for the District of South Carolina

Piedmont Booksellers Guild v. City of Norvale

Case No. SYN-DSC-26-CV-0107 Certified District-Court Docket Certified January 30, 2026

The clerk certifies the following entries from the civil docket as they appeared at the close of business on January 30, 2026. ECF 1, filed January 5, is the Guild's verified complaint for declaratory and injunctive relief. ECF 2 is the civil assignment and service notice. ECF 3, also filed January 5, is the Guild's motion and memorandum for a preliminary injunction. ECF 3-1 through 3-5 contain the ordinance compilation, legislative history, pilot enforcement history, site materials, and supporting declarations delivered with the motion. The docket reflects electronic service on the City.

ECF 8, filed January 12, is the City's answer. ECF 9, filed January 14, is the City's opposition to preliminary relief, with the parks director and police-logistics declarations as attachments. ECF 10, entered January 15, schedules a hearing and directs the parties to identify any proposed stipulations. ECF 11, filed January 16, is the Guild's reply. ECF 12, also filed January 16, is the parties' stipulation of undisputed facts and alternatives chart. No counterclaim, amended complaint, or dispositive merits motion appears on the docket.

The January 19 hearing is reflected at ECF 14. The minute entry states that counsel appeared, exhibits were admitted subject to the parties' stipulation, and the matter was taken under advisement. ECF 15 is the reporter's notation that an electronic recording and written transcript were preserved. The transcript was filed January 20 at ECF 16. ECF 17, entered January 23, is the memorandum opinion and order granting a preliminary injunction. The docket records notice of that order to all counsel on the same date.

The post-order entries begin with ECF 18, the City's January 26 motion to stay the preliminary injunction pending appeal. ECF 19 is the Guild's January 27 opposition. ECF 20 is the City's January 28 reply. ECF 21 is the January 28 order denying a stay. The court did not alter the January 23 injunction, set a supersedeas bond, or enter a final judgment on the Guild's underlying claims. The civil action remains open in the district court.

ECF 22, filed January 29, is the City's notice of appeal from the January 23 preliminary-injunction order, identifying 28 U.S.C. § 1292(a)(1) and the related stay order. The filing fee is recorded as paid. ECF 23, entered January 30, acknowledges notice from the Fourth Circuit that the appeal was opened as Piedmont Booksellers Guild v. City of Norvale, appellate No. SYN-CA4-26-CV-4103. The district clerk transmitted the notice of appeal and docket sheet electronically. No later appellate filing is included in this certification.

For clarity, the docket entries identify three distinct procedural questions. The complaint's constitutional merits remain unresolved. The preliminary injunction regulates conduct during that unresolved litigation. The notice invokes interlocutory review of the grant of that injunction; it does not recite a final disposition of the case. The district stay motion and denial establish that the City first sought interim appellate protection from the originating court.

I certify that this two-page docket extract accurately reproduces the listed entries and their filing or entry dates. Attachments are identified by parent entry but are not independently summarized beyond their docket descriptions. The certification does not authenticate the truth of statements within a filing, enlarge the appellate record, or express a view on the merits. Certified January 30, 2026, by the Clerk of the United States District Court for the District of South Carolina.
