

SYNTHETIC TRAINING RECORD — FICTIONAL PARTIES, PEOPLE, OFFICES, IDENTIFIERS, AND EVENTS — NOT A REAL FILING OR PRESENTENCE REPORT

Arrest Return, Initial-Appearence Minutes, and Conditions Order

United States District Court for the Middle District of North Carolina United States v. Mateo Serrano Criminal Action No. SYN-MDNC-25-CR-0328 Docket Entry 7 Entered November 6, 2025

The Synthetic Federal Program Integrity Office reports that Mateo Serrano was taken into fictional federal custody at 9:10 a.m. on November 6, 2025, pursuant to process issued on the complaint and superseded for charging purposes by the November 5 indictment. The arrest occurred without force, injury, search dispute, or seizure of personal property beyond ordinary booking items.

Serrano was brought before Magistrate Judge Mira Lorne at 3:00 p.m. the same day. Bram Ives appeared for the fictional United States. Celia Arden appeared as appointed defense counsel. District Clerk Tessa Wren recorded the proceeding. Serrano confirmed his identity and received copies of the indictment and complaint.

This return concerns only fictional people and events. It contains no address, booking number, biometric identifier, credential, or law-enforcement technique. The court found that the initial appearance occurred without unnecessary delay and proceeded to advise Serrano of the charge and rights.

Advice of Charge and Rights

Judge Lorne advised Serrano that Count One charges conspiracy to commit wire fraud under 18 U.S.C. §§ 1349 and 1343. The court summarized the accusation as a knowing agreement to pursue false reimbursement claims against fictional Meridian Community Supply Cooperative. The court emphasized that the indictment is not evidence and that Serrano remains presumed innocent.

Serrano was advised of the right to remain silent, the right to counsel at every critical stage, the right to appointed counsel if eligible, and the right to a prompt hearing on release or detention. He was told that any voluntary statement could be used in the proceeding and that he should consult Arden before discussing the allegations.

Arden confirmed that she had met privately with Serrano and accepted the appointment for this exercise. Serrano stated that he understood the advice and wished Arden to represent him. No interpreter or accommodation was requested. The court directed the government to preserve discovery and to route all substantive contact through counsel.

Plea and Scheduling Minutes

After consultation with Arden, Serrano entered a plea of not guilty to Count One. He did not waive indictment, and no plea agreement was presented. The court found that the plea preserved all defenses and required the government to prove guilt beyond a reasonable doubt if the matter proceeded to trial.

Ives requested a detention hearing on the next court day and sought temporary custody until that hearing. Arden opposed any final detention order but agreed that the court could hold the focused hearing on November 7 after counsel reviewed the government's proffer. The court set the hearing for 11:00 a.m. before Judge Lorne.

The clerk was directed to serve written notice of the setting, provide Arden access to the nonconfidential materials supporting the request, and maintain a public minute entry. No presentence investigation was authorized, no role adjustment was discussed, and no future plea decision was assumed. Existing trial and discovery deadlines would be established by a later order after the detention question was resolved.

Temporary Custody and Proposed Conditions

The court ordered Serrano held in temporary fictional custody solely until the November 7 hearing. The order was not a finding that permanent detention was warranted. It allowed the parties a brief opportunity to present information about appearance, community ties, and conditions that might reasonably address the government's concerns.

Arden proposed release on personal recognizance with travel limited to the district, regular reporting to a fictional pretrial officer, notice of any address change through counsel, attendance at all proceedings, and no contact about the charged case with Pared, Bell, Venn, or Holt. Ives reserved the government's response for the hearing.

No condition required disclosure of a real residence, employer, telephone number, device, or account. The exercise uses neutral compliance descriptions instead of monitoring mechanics. Serrano was advised that violation of a lawful condition could result in revocation or a separate proceeding. He acknowledged the temporary order and the obligation to appear the next morning.

Written Conditions Order

Pending the focused detention hearing, Serrano shall remain in fictional custody and shall have reasonable access to Arden. Government agents shall not question him about the charge outside counsel's presence unless he knowingly initiates contact and validly waives his rights. The clerk shall transmit the indictment, appointment notice, and hearing setting to counsel.

If release is later ordered, no condition proposed today becomes effective until stated in the November 7 order. The court has made no finding concerning risk of flight, danger, guilt, loss, restitution, or relative participant role. Temporary custody is limited to the short scheduling interval and may not be described as punishment.

The arresting office shall file no supplement containing private booking data. The public return above is sufficient to establish execution of process and prompt presentation. Any confidential logistical record remains outside this synthetic corpus. The matter is continued to November 7, 2025, at 11:00 a.m.

SO ORDERED this 6th day of November, 2025.

Mira Lorne Fictional United States Magistrate Judge